THURSDAY 23 JANUARY 2014

Dr Ian Jenkins, Senior Curator at The British Museum responsible for the ancient Greek collections, has, by popular demand, very kindly invited us to meet him by the Lion of Cnidus in the Great Court at 5pm on Thursday 23 January, in order to introduce us to the Museum's unrivalled collection of Lycian and Carian architecture and sculpture.

For this big treat numbers are limited to 15: first come, first served. Please let me know as soon as possible if you would like to join the party.
